

Creative Writing Collaborative

Presents

Fractured Stories

Table of Contents

~Spotlight stories~

Cinderella , Retold by Oviya Oli.....	1
Little Red Riding Hood , Retold by Meghna Srivarshini.....	3
Matilda , Retold by Ashvin Kumar.....	5
Babysister's Club: Kristy's Great Idea , by Kareena Patel.....	6

Despicable Me , Retold by Aarav Vashi.....	8
Little Sled Riding Hood , by Annika Jivrajani.....	8
Magic Tree House: George Washington at Last , by Arjun	9
Cute Little Red Riding Hood , by Arna Srinivas.....	10
Sonic the Hedgehog's Exotic Journey , by Avinash Kumar.....	11
Three Little French Pigs , by Ayathi Magesh.....	12
Happily Ever After? , by Dhanya.....	13
Wings of Fire: Ending of the Poison Jungle 2 , by Ethan Zhang.....	13
Harry Rowler Potter , by Julian Zhang.....	14
Cinderella , Retold by Likhita M.....	15
Timmy Failure , Retold by Malay Gupta.....	16
Cinderella , Retold by Shruti Vijay.....	17

~ Spotlight stories ~

Cinderella

Retold by Oviya Oli

A week after Cinderella lost her slipper...

Fairy Godmother:

Cinderella is a sweet girl. How do I know? Because I'm her fairy godmother. When her mother died, she acted happy all the time. But she cried with her little bunny friends when no one was looking. Though she should have put some sparkles on them at least.

But anyway, after a long time her father finally found her a terrible, atrocious, ghastly, horrendous, dreadful, horrid, unpleasant, hideous, disastrous, awful, frightful, evil... oh wait, I should probably stop there right? Back to the story, her terrible stepmother. Her father, a few days after her stepfamily moved in, had left to go to his job so her stepfamily took over her.

Oh, here is my granddaughter, Alex. She watched Cinderella more than me. I barely did anything. That reminds me, my name is Brystal.

Alex:

Hi! My name is Alex! My grandma probably already told you that though. I was the one who watched over Cinderella though I am many, many years younger than her. I lived in a world called the Beyond. I went through a mirror and ended up here then I found my grandma. Time to say Cinderella's now. Her stepsisters, Mia and Laura were the ugliest people in town, but they were mean to make themselves feel better (I turned into a person sized as Nina, Thumbalina's daughter, to find that out). She made her clean, cook, dust, clean some more, and sew. She also went to get the food and other items. She went to this fancy store to get something for her sister's I mean stepsisters (could never be sisters) and there was the Prince buying something too, but she didn't notice. She bought a necklace and as she left, she bumped into the Prince. She recognized him and she went CRAZY. She apologized so many times I actually got bored.

Then she just left, how sad. I didn't realize she left because I was too fascinated by Prince Charming's look. After Cinderella left, she walked a little longer than usual, something more happy than normal. Then it hit me, it was the same Prince Charming. But I didn't have time to think I heard a growl!!!!!! We were lost and we had some wolves who looked hungry!! There wasn't time to think about all the spells I had. But I was still brave with Cinderella. Who am I kidding I was terrified! So I turned into a bunny and hid behind Cinderella. Every step the wolves took were slower than before. Thump...thump...thump. I was prepared for their attack. AHHHHHHHHHH!!!!!! Sorry it still haunts me.

BUT there was a man on a horse and it was Prince Charming! He slayed them like they were nothing! Cinderella thanked him and ran away. Tsk tsk tsk. At least this time she did not lose anything. She was probably home already (I got lost for a very long time).

Her stepsisters had some sort of invitation I mean a really fancy invitation. It took all my might not to snoop, but it was still not enough so I had to snoop. It was a ball invitation. Prince Charming sent it! I turned into a bunny to find Cinderella. I saw happy faces IN MY MIND. In real life, there was sadness. And because I was a bunny, she talked to me because she thought I was one of her pets and so she told me what happened (she could understand animals). People with trumpets came with invitations from the Prince! When they came to her house they gave the invitation. Her stepmother said she might not be able to go because she would not provide her a dress. I think she thought that would stop her from going.

But I had an idea. I reminded her about the dress, her mother's dress in the attic. I would not let Cinderella not go to the ball and not meet Prince Charming. She looked brighter than the sun when she heard that. She went directly to the attic. After a good nap, Cinderella finally found it. She sprinted to her stepfamily. She showed her mother's beautiful dress. But Mia said she wanted to see the dress but when she touched it she started ripping the dress until it was nothing but pieces of torn fabric. Cinderella ran to her room and slammed her door and started crying (I went through a secret tunnel the bunnies go through).

The bunnies started getting the fabric and sewing it back together. I started helping immediately. I knew we would finish; no I didn't at all. But with the help of my friends we finished. But at night, her sisters came in and shredded it once again. I was getting tired of them and angry. I went to grandma and reported. She had an idea. She said I had to go to the ball and told me nothing else: it was grandma's turn now.

Fairy Godmother:

I changed into an old lady. And saw Cinderella crying with a ripped dress.

I came to her and asked, "Hello, do you mind giving me some water and food?" and with the big heart of hers she gave me some food. I transformed into a fairy with lots of sparkles. Her face looked amazed. I told her I was her fairy godmother and to get me a pumpkin, some bunnies, and a lizard. And of course, she went immediately to get them all. With a wave of my wand, a wonderful carriage, horses, and a horse man appeared. I made a new blue dress and glass slippers for her and sent her off. She was 20 minutes late. Now time for Alex.

Alex:

Hi again. I acted like a little girl Princess. I changed because it was soooo boring. There was silence and you could hear a pin drop. I turned into a mouse so I could reach there faster. I could almost feel the tension of the running. Trying to get to her unseen was one of the hardest challenges of my whole life. And well I still failed. A person saw me and screamed their crown off. Everyone tried to step on me.

Cinderella said, “Stop! Leave the mouse alone! It has a life too!” You have to give it to her when she has enough attention, she somehow gets more.

The Prince moved past everyone all the way to Cinderella and asked her to dance and of course she said yes (who wouldn’t). They danced till the clock struck 12. She disappeared with a poof of sparkles (help from me) and ended up on the stairs. She lost her glass slippers which would have broken, but I saved it. The Prince called and guards ran. But the Prince noticed the slipper. When she reached home, her bunnies were spinning in circles. Her old working dress came back. And she was amazed to see a gleaming house. She decided to sweep a bit with foot movement like the dance. Her stepmother did not notice she was Cinderella because she had a grim smile. The next morning the Prince came with the slipper.

It was originally planned to send a servant but the Prince wanted to do it himself. After too small and too big, they finally (after 3 hours) came to Cinderella’s house. Her sister’s were first to try, still too big and small. They did not consider Cinderella.

Noooooo, this could not happen. I turned into a bunny again. Going to the Prince hopping on his shoe. He loved me. Though the sisters were like shoo shoo and ahhhhh. I pointed to him to follow me. Surprisingly, he followed. I showed him to Cinderella and he tried it on her. When it was on she shimmered and I turned back to a human form and Cinderella looked like she was at the ball. I told them I was her fairy godmother’s granddaughter and it was a happily ever after.

The End

Little Red Riding Hood

By Meghna Srivarshini

Once upon a time, there was a little girl named Little Red Riding Hood. Her name was given to her because she always wore a red coat.

One day, her mother told her that her grandma was sick so she gave Little Red Riding Hood a basket full of food and sent her off to her grandma’s house. She reminded her, “Don’t talk to strangers.” Little Red Riding Hood always took the short way to her grandma’s house which was always through the woods. Little Red Riding Hood did not know that there was a wolf in the woods, but the wolf did not know that she would be there either.

The wolf was baking a festival for his dear brother’s birthday so he went to the fridge to get some meat, but when he looked inside there was no meat left. So he went outside to get some meat and then, he could smell Little Red Riding Hood in the distance. He thought that maybe he could lure Little Red Riding Hood into a trap. He wanted Little Red Riding Hood to come closer because he wanted the meat she was bringing to her grandma for the festival. The wolf wouldn’t even have to cook! He was so happy and excited that he almost forgot, but sadly he didn’t.

He started making a disguise making him look like a kind human, a woman to be specific. He was wearing a hat, some lipstick, a dress that was incredibly itchy, and a pair of shoes. The wolf looked in the mirror and was amazed he almost started looking like a real human. He started following Little Red Riding Hood until he saw a wolf hunter. He was frightened and hurried back deep into the woods. He waited for himself to catch his breath. Then, he knew that Little Red Riding Hood couldn't have gotten far so he started using his nose to follow the trail of Little Red Riding Hood and soon he caught up with her.

Little Red Riding Hood had reached her grandma's house not knowing that the wolf was following she walked inside and but no one was there the wolf looked through the window but no one was there the wolf walked in Little Red Riding Hood was so fooled by the wolf's disguise that she thought that the wolf was her grandma

The wolf did not know that Little Red Riding Hood thought that he was her grandma. Little Red Riding Hood said, "Grandma, why are you out of bed?"

The wolf said, "Oh yes darling I was out looking for you," not knowing what to say.

"But I thought you were sick and couldn't walk," said Little Red Riding Hood confused. The wolf said "Oh, I was looking for you and used up all my strength even though I was starving" as he was bending his knees while rubbing his tummy. Little Red Riding Hood helped the wolf who was pretending to be the grandma to the bed while the real grandma was out looking for Little Red Riding Hood. Soon the wolf's devious plan was beginning to come together the wolf was waiting for the right moment to pounce onto Little Red Riding Hood and grab the meat but just then, the real grandma walked through the door. Little Red Riding Hood was confused.

The grandma said, "Who is she?"

Little Red Riding Hood said, "But grandma I thought you were here," she said pointing at the wolf. The wolf's plan was beginning to fall apart. The grandma started to see the wolf's big ears and then, she recognized that he was a wolf.

"Little Red Riding Hood, that is a wolf who is trying to eat you!" The wolf couldn't wait any longer. He went for the meat that Little Red Riding Hood was holding, but the grandma took her walking stick and started hitting the wolf. Just then, a hunter came walking by and saw the wolf and immediately shot the wolf. He used his fur to make a coat for the grandma who was sick and cold and then, everything went back to normal.

Little Red Riding Hood and the grandma thanked the hunter for killing the wolf so when Little Red Riding Hood's grandma started feeling better they all had dinner together as a thank you for killing the wolf who was trying to eat them. The wolf's brother's birthday party did not go well since the wolf never came back; they had no meat for the festival so everyone had to eat vegetables and the people at the party did not like it so they all left so the wolf's brother had a sad birthday.

The End

Matilda

Retold by Ashvin Kumar

Once Matilda arrived at her class, her teacher, Miss Trunchbull introduced her. She was being very kind to her and pointed her towards her seat. Then, they started arithmetic. They were learning their 3 and 4 multiplication tables. Since Matilda was saying the answers correctly and quickly, she asked if she knew her 1 - 12 tables all by heart. Matilda answered, "yes."

To check, Miss Trunchbull asked her, "what 12×11 is?" She answered it correctly.

To challenge her, she asked her, "What was 1578×563 ?" To her amazement, she answered it correctly without a paper!!!

Ms. Trunchbull asked Matilda, "How did you do it?!"

Matilda answered, "If a calculator can do it, why can't I?"

Ms.Trunchbull beamed at Matilda. "One moment children." She said. Miss Trunchbull was going to tell Ms. Honey, the principal.

Once she made it inside, Miss Honey asked what she wanted.

She told her that Matilda would probably need to move up grade. Before she could finish telling her why, she asked, " So she is being natty, right?"

"No no, I am saying she is very smart for this grade," Miss Trunchbull reassured.

"No. She won't be and never will be. I am the smartest person, no one will ever be smarter than me," Ms. Honey reminded her. And the quarrel went on and on and on.

Once this quarrel ended, Ms. Trunchbull went to Matilda's house to inform her parents. Once Ms. Trunchbull arrived, she rang their doorbell.

"Whadya want," Mr. Worwood asked.

"I want to tell you about your child."

"What, is she being natty again? Don't worry, I'll deal with her. This was a problem. No one thought Matilda was doing well in her studies. They were all thinking negatively about her. So Ms.Trunchbull decided to tell them why she was doing good.

"No no, she is doing good in her studies."

"She must be using a calculator to cheat."

"No, Mr.Wormwood. I've watched her and she is doing fine."

"Fine, I will believe you, Ms.Trunchbull." Mr. Wormwood agreed with her. She was happy and her problem had been slightly solved for now.

Babysitters Club: Kristy's Great Idea

By Kareena Patel

Kristy was sitting on her chair in history class.

"Does anybody know what The American Revolution is?" said Mr.Redmont loudly. The classroom was silent.

Beep Beep Beep. "Finally school is over," said Kristy. Kristy was packing up her books, notes, and pencils when she heard a voice that sounded kind of like Mr. Redmont, but a lot more firm.

"Kristy, you should not be packing up yet," said Mr. Redmont. Kristy nodded, but Mr. Redmont did not take that seriously.

"Kristy, come to my desk while everyone else can leave but everyone make sure you read the pages 1-25 in your history textbook!" reminded Mr.Redmont.

"Hi Mr.Redmont," said Kristy quietly.

"You have realised your mistake right, Kristy?"

"Yes, I do."

"Well, Kristy, the best way to remember your mistakes is to write an essay," said Mr.Redmont, "So your homework is to find the meaning of the word 'Decorum' and write a 100 word essay."

Kristy felt like saying ugh but she knew that she had to do it. Kristy's best friend, Mary Anne was standing outside of the door waiting for Kristy. Kristy headed out and so did Mary Anne.

"Hey Kristy," said Mary Anne.

"Hi Mary Anne! I have an idea," said Kristy."

"Well, can you tell me?"

"I have an idea of a baking club. We always make dessert for the kids in our neighborhood so I think we can do this"

"Are you in?" asked Kristy."

"Oh yeah, I am," said Mary Anne, "I am so excited, but we need somebody else to join us," said Mary Anne.

"We can ask Claudia," said Kristy. Claudia was the coolest girl in class. She was so talented and so fashionable. She used to hangout with us but then she liked her other "cooler" friends better so she left us.

"I miss Claudia. She was very nice. We should ask her," Mary Anne said. The next day Kristy and Mary Anne asked Claudia if she would like to join the baking club.

"Hi Kristy," said Claudia.

"Oh, hi," said Kristy.

“I have a question for you.” said Kristy. Kristy was very nervous because what if she didn’t want to be a part of the club or what if she was mad at me.

Kristy showed a worry on her face, but suddenly Mary Anne said, “Kristy come quick!”

“I will see you soon!” Claudia said.

“What Mary Anne? I was just about to ask Claudia and you know that it is hard to ask her anything because she is always so busy!” said Kristy harshly.

“I was bringing you over because I needed to tell you that I already told her,” said Mary Anne. “

“Oh ok well what did she say exactly,” asked Kristy nervously.

“Claudia said she will join,” said Mary Anne. Mary Anne and Kristy were so excited. They were jumping up and down together.

A few days later they had a baking club meeting and Kristy would explain how it would go. Their first meeting was on Wednesday. They all met in Claudia’s room because she had a landline phone. The landline phone would be the phone that people would call them on. Kristy and Mary were entering Claudia’s house. Mimi opened the door.

“Welcome,” said Mimi. Mimi was Claudia’s grandma. She spends most of her time in the kitchen making tea.

“The other girls are upstairs,” said Mimi. Mary Anne and Kristy walked up the stairs.

“Mary Anne, why did Mimi say ‘girls’ if we only invited Claudia?” asked Kristy.

“I don’t know,” said Mary Anne. They continued walking when they were passing by Jainne. Jainne was Claudia’s older sister.

“Hi Jainne,” said Kristy and Mary Anne at the same time. Jainne pressed a few buttons on her keyboard and then the door closed.

“What is her problem?” said Mary Anne. Kristy shrugged her shoulders.

Claudia opened the door. “Hi Kristy!” exclaimed Claudia happily.

“This Baking Club sounds nice,” said Stacey who approached from behind.

“You told her?” whispered Kristy. Kristy was very angry but she controlled her feelings well.

“Fine, it is a baking club after all,” said Kristy. Then, Claudia offered everybody watermelon gummies. Everyone had some but Stacey didn’t eat anything for some reason. Kristy assigned everyone jobs and they had a list too.

Jobs list:

Kristy - President

Claudia - Vice President

Mary Anne - Secretary

Stacey - Treasurer

Then Kristy explained everything, "So 3 times a week we will all come to Claudia's room and we will have it every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. We will also bake desserts like Cookie dough, ice cream and more.

The next day was when they started making all the desserts and weeks and weeks passed and finally, they had mastered it. After that, they even had their own bakery shop and the girls were so happy!

Despicable Me

Retold by Aarav Vashi

Once upon a time, there was a person named Mr. Gru. Mr. Gru wanted to be the greatest villain on earth. He decided the plan with his friend Dr. Flux. Dr. Flux was very good at inventing cool gadgets and weird potions. Dr. Flux found out that a detective lab made a device that can turn small things into giant things. That device's name was the SHRINK RAY. Mr. Gru wanted to use that to make the sun giant so the Earth would melt! But to do that, he needed a rocket to go to space. The next day, he went to the criminal bank to take a loan for the rocket. The bank liked his plan but they said that they wanted to see the shrink ray first.

The very next day, Mr. Gru went to steal the Shrink ray. He was successful but when they were on their way, suddenly a person named Victor came and stole the shrink ray from Mr. Gru. Mr. Gru followed him trying his best to protect the shrink ray, but he was not able to. So the next day, Mr. Gru went to Victor's base to spy on him but Victor didn't let him. That day he saw that 3 girls went to sell burgers at his house.

TO BE CONTINUED...

LITTLE SLED RIDING HOOD

By Annika Jivrajani

Once upon a time in the cold winter woods little Sled went to visit her grandmother to give her some food for the winter on the way she met Snow. Snow was big. But he told her to get some hot cocoa from the farmer's shop. So little Sled went to get some hot cocoa for her grandma. Sled did not find any hot cocoa. Well..... It was more like she did find hot cocoa, but she just did not have enough money so little Sled went down her sled to visit her grandma. She knocked on the door.....

"Grandma you look so weird. Your ears are so big and your teeth are so sharp! Your eyes are big and beedy to!" Little Sled exclaimed.

“Better for hearing young Sled,” Snow disguised as her grandma said, “Better for chewing and seeing, too.”

And the Snow MONSTER opened his mouth WIDE to eat her up!

Suddenly Sled remembered, “Snow monsters are allergic to hot things.” She pulled out the soup for her grandmother and POURED it all over the snow monster.

And then, Sled tore inside the home and found that inside was.....GRANDMA!!!!!!!
She sat her on the table and made hot cocoa together.

THE END

Magic Tree House: George Washington at Last

By Arjun

Jack and Annie were having fun in their backyard when they looked outside and they saw George Washington and so many people visiting him. There were many people at the White House and it was so crowded there.

Tad and Willie saw Jack and Annie playing in their backyard and Tad told Jack and Annie, “This is our property” in a firm voice.

“No, this is ours,” said Jack, “It’s in the middle still 1 inch away from yours.”

Tad said, “Who is to boss me?” and that’s when Annie called Tad a “shrimp” so Tad lowered his fist and shook their hand and became friends.

“Do you want to know a secret about George Washington?” asked Tad.

Annie whispered to Jack, “Should we go with him?”

“He is just making all of this stuff up,” Jack replied.

“Are you coming down?” called Tad.

“Or should I come back so we can play Darn?” asked Jack.

“Are you coming or not?” asked Tad

“Yes! Go!” said Annie.

“What is in your bag?” asked Tad looking down at Jack’s bag.

“Nothing,” Jack said, “Now go back down!” He did not want Tad to see the book.

Finally, Jack said, “fine” and dropped the bag, “Are you happy?”

“Yes!”

“Let’s go!” He grabbed the pencil and snuck out and put it in his pocket.

“I’ll come back and back to get the book after we get rid of this kid,” said Jack.

“If we can,” Anne said smiling. They started down the rope ladder. Willie was waiting at the bottom of the ladder.

“Hello,” he said.

“Willie, this is Jack and Annie and I told them that you and I have a secret,” Tad told him. He gave Willie a meaningful look, “I told them we’d take them to meet the president. I gave them my word.”

“Oh you did,” said Willie worryly, “Hello Jack and Annie.” He shook hands with them.

“I apologize for that and he added my brother is very high-spirited. And Willie’s sweet as pie,” said Tad making a face, “Come on you all to the White house!” He saluted, then took huge marching steps across the lawn.

“So Tad really knew the president?” Annie asked as she and Jack walked with Willie.

“He does,” said Willie with a smile, “And so do I.”

“Oh cool,” said Jack. He liked Willie’s kind mature manner. He wouldn’t mind if Willie introduced them to the president. Do you think you could introduce yourself first?

TO BE CONTINUED...

Cute Little Red Riding Hood

By Arna Srinivas

Once upon a time, there was a girl named Red Riding Hood. She was called Red Riding Hood because she loved the color Red, and her hood was red too. When she walks, it looks like her hood is riding with her. She was a small and cute girl. She cared about others so much.

One day, Little Red Riding Hood was playing when she got to know that her grandma was sick. So, her mom made some bread.

“Hey little cutie, can u bring some bread for grandma, she’s sick?” Her mom asked.

“Sure!” And with the bread in her hand, Little Red Riding Hood left. On the way to grandma’s home, she saw a sneaky little fox.

“Hi, cute girl! Where are you headed to?” Asked the fox. The Red Riding Hood wanted to answer, but her mom told her not to talk to strangers. However, she thought that the fox was an innocent animal and so she answered.

“Well, my grandma is sick so I am dropping off a loaf of bread for her.”

“Oh,” said the sneaky little fox. The fox asked little Red Riding Hood a lot of questions. After talking, Fox asked if he could come. Little Red Riding Hood refused and said no. The Fox begged her, but she still said no. And so, since Little Red Riding Hood said no, Fox made a plan.

“Um..... I have to go now,” said the Fix.

“Oh, No worries!” Little Red said and so she went off and didn’t realize that fox was behind her. He followed her until grandma’s home. The door was open. Once they reached, the fox ate both of them all up.

The End

Sonic The Hedgehog's Exotic Journey

By Avinash Kumar

Sonic was a little baby hedgehog and was known for being really slow; Even a turtle could catch up to him by the speed at only 0.001 mph. He was sad because everyone would go without him and was lonely. His only company was Longclaw, an owl who kept him safe and took care of him. No one looked at him and he had no friends, every one would just pretend that they didn't see him and continue to walk on.

One day, someone thought that he had powers and sought to take them from him. He took a group of people to finish him, but Longclaw came just in time and saved him. However, one of the guys shot her and she went down.

She threw a ring and said, "Here Sonic take these rings and use them if anyone wants to do any harm to you." To Sonic's astonishment, he crossed the ring in a time of 0.1 seconds and he was amazed how he sped up crazy. The portal closed and he was all alone. As he got out of the portal, he found a cave underground and put all his stuff there.

A few years later Sonic got older and was now a little faster - way faster. He ran as fast as a truck now and zoomed right past it without them noticing.

One day, he saw a baseball match and was sad that he had no friends there to cheer him up like they did when someone got out.

He got out of his hiding spot and asked if he could give it a shot and everyone screamed, "NO!"

They pushed him out of there and towards the trash. He was sad and zoomed away. They were all astonished by his speed and were yelling him to come back, but Sonic was already gone. His favorite person was the Donut Lord, Tom Wacowski and he protected the animals big and small and he lived with the Pretzel Lady, Maddie Wacowski who was surprisingly born without bones and still healthy. Sonic went away slowly back in his cave.

One person is on him and has one of his quills, which he finds out has unlimited power. He uses it to power his robots to work to their maximum capacity.

Sonic went to meet Tom and Maddie Wacowski who offered to help him out instead of harming him.

Dr. Robotnic comes out and tells him, "Quit it. If you run, it will hurt more, if you don't it won't." But Sonic had his own mind and started to run but was too slow, he tried and tried but couldn't.

Dr. Robotnic started to laugh harder and harder by the second which got Sonic mad and his adrenaline kicked in. Suddenly, he sped away and was running at the speed of light and once Robotnic didn't see him there he started the disaster. He chased him like a mad tiger trying to bite him instead of using beams of light or lasers.

Robotnik at last hit Sonic and screamed victoriously, but when he came back up mad with bolts of electricity in his quills he started to hit the button. Then, he remembered the rings that Long Claw had given him and threw one right behind his aircraft and knocked him right in it, and the portal finally closed.

Robotnik was gone AT LAST! Sonic had great times with Tom Wacowski and Maddie, but the day ended and Sonic began to go door to door.

Tom and Maddie asked, "Where are you going?"

Sonic said, "Back to my cave."

"Now put this blindfold one right now."

Sonic put on the blindfold and took him in the attic and surprised him with his new bedroom. He said thanks and stayed there happily ever after.

Three Little French Pigs!

By Ayathi Magesh

The Three Little French Pigs were walking in New York and saw a poster on the ground. The poster said FREE TRIP TO FRANCE! The three little pigs were very excited to have a free trip to France! Then, they recalled that their French mother lived in Paris, France. So they thought why don't they visit their mother! The three little pigs that are going to be French Pigs were excited! The three French pigs packed their bags and went to Paris! They surprised their mother! The three French pig's mother was happy for about a day! But then, the pigs made a huge mess.

The mother said, "Find your own homes." The pigs were sad that their mother said that. Now the pigs had to find homes. So they thought they just made it. The first pig made a house out of sticks.

The second pig made a house out of crepes. The third made it out of bricks. That took a while. Then a big bad animal came: Gaston the Bear. He was the baddest. Gaston saw the pigs. Gaston went to the first pig's house. Gaston said, "Little French pig let me in or else I will blow your house down."

The pig said, "No!"

So Gaston blew the house down. The little pig had to go to the second pig's house. The Bad Bear Gaston did the same thing and said "You better let me in!"

The pig said "NO!" So the pig blew the house down. Both pigs had to run to the third pig's house. The wolf could not do it this time. It was too strong. So the moral of the story is to do hard work!

The End!

Happily Ever After?

By Dhanya

Everyone knows about Cinderella and her story right? Well no one has talked about what happened after the story. Well, I am going to tell you just that!

In the end, they said the Prince found Cinderella and they lived happily ever after, but that wasn't really the case. After the Prince and Cinderella went to the castle, Cinderella noticed that the Prince was different and not how he was at the ball. He still had the same interests but he was a little bossy. He said a lot to Cinderella and told her that she should be cleaning up the whole castle and the Prince only gave two clothes to wear and started treating her like a servant, just like her step family did.

Then, one day she could not take it anymore. So she thought of a plan and it took her one day and finally, she thought of a super idea. She thought that she could run away at night and go live at her house with her stepmom and her two step sisters instead. But the thing is her mom and her sisters were mean to her, but she thought to herself that it was only for a day and hoped that the Prince would eventually realize that he was being mean.

So the next day, she stayed at their place. Then, the Prince finally realized and was nice and sweet again. But will the Prince turn bad and bossy? We will never know...

THE END

Wings of Fire:

Ending of the Poison Jungle 2

By Ethan Zhang

Hazel slowly slid out the paper..... "It's a map???"

Meanwhile.....At the Snarling River, the HiveWings were gathering. Then, a split second later, a Leafwing came rushing in and Hazel asked if they were crossing the river.

"No but they have done something else. They've set the forest on fire!!!!"

Sundew opened his leafspeak and almost had to close it almost immediately because he heard millions of trees screaming.

Then, he said to Mandrake, "Let's go make more antidote!" So then he told the plant to grow with his leafspeak. But then he did not see the Heart of Salvation and he saw the BREATH OF EVIL!!

Later...Hazel finds arows that connect to the distant kingdoms(Pyrrhia)!

Tsunami said, "These arrows connect to the distant Pyrrhia! And these little dots must be islands!"

Meanwhile Sundew and Mandrake were going to tell Hazel what they found when Hawthorn had one of his snake's teeth on Willow's scales. Because of that Sundew told a vine to strangle the snake to bite Hawthorn and also used a bush to kill the snake. Soon everyone was at the village and they evacuated Pantala.

The End

To see more go to Book 14 witch is coming out on March 2, 2021

HARRY ROWLER POTTER

By JULIAN ZHANG

One day in 4 Privet Drive, Harry awoke from his aunt screaming, "Wake up, Wake up now!" Harry arose from his huge bedroom. He got up and put on his socks after picking off a couple flies stuck to his sock. He was used to flies because beside his bed was a whole buffet of food and he always left his window a crack open and these flies always felt pulled in. Harry looked up and remembered that it was that skinny Dudley's Birthday. When Harry went downstairs he saw Dudley trying to move the bacon to the pan. Anyway, Dudley got one less present from last year and he sure wasn't happy.

They went to the zoo to celebrate Dudley's birthday. They got ice cream before they got to the zoo when crazy things went down. Long story short, Harry released the snake because he banged on the glass. Now let's get to the good part. They got home and celebrated with Harry like nothing happened or like it was his birthday. Skinny, but now fat Dudley was lying in the smallest bedroom ever, eating and eating until he got so fat he thought he was going to explode.

After a couple mornings and nights, a letter came for Harry. They eagerly opened the letter and it said:

DEAR HARRY POTTER,

WE INVITE TO WITCHCRAFT AND WIZARDRY SUPER SCHOOL. SEE YOU THERE.

Dudley was looking sad on the couch because it wasn't him who got to do something cool while Harry looked excited. Mr. and Mrs. Dudley looked at Dudley on the couch and Harry who was standing in front of them with a gleaming face. Just then they realized that they should take care of their own son, not some nephew.

TO BE CONTINUED...

Cinderella

Retold by Likhita M

Hi, my name is Cinderella and I used to be a maid at my stepmother's house. I used to get beaten up and yelled at each day. I never dared to talk back to my stepmother or step sisters because that would only make things worse.

My life wasn't always like this before my family passed away. Then, I had no choice but to move in. I never understood why they hated me. Sometimes I would think they were cuckoo because one time, they made me come down three stairways to put toothpaste on their brush. Also, they hollered at me in the middle of the night to get them water so I went down those three stairways to get a glass of water. I didn't want to let my anger out on them because bad things would happen like getting locked in a closet for an hour or more chores.

One particular day, the king announced that whoever brings back the missing daughter of the shepherds will get a reward. He showed the picture of her to the crowd and when I saw it, I noticed that she looked like me. I was so confused, but wanted to help at any cost so I went to the king. He sent me a basket of food, a pittance of gold coins, and a blanket. He also said that she was last found in the woods looking for berries to eat.

The next day, I left on my journey into the woods. The journey went on for days. More than 1 week has passed and I had no sign of her. One day, I noticed a scarf while I was wandering through the woods. It looked familiar, I took out the picture of the missing girl and she was wearing the same scarf. I looked around for any clues and then, I saw some footprints that looked like the girls because they looked like the same shoe marks as the picture. I followed the footprints and it led me to a little cottage made with wood leaves, dirt and straw.

I knocked on the door and the same girl in the picture opened it. I was delighted to finally find her after 2 weeks of searching. Just to confirm it was her, I took out the picture from the king and asked her if it was her and she nodded. I explained everything that happened.

She narrated how she was picking berries and accidentally went too far in the woods and got lost. She said that she tried to find a way back but couldn't so she built a little cottage.

I told her we would be going back to the village tomorrow because it was too dark to go now. So that night, I slept in the little cottage, it was quite comfy. The next morning, we set off with a bunch of berries. I actually was kinda lost as well.

One day, as we were walking she asked me why we look almost exactly the same.

I said, "I don't know." As a few days went by, we both began to lose hope until one day, I saw the palace roof in my sight. I was so happy to have finally found the village. We walked towards the castle even though it took more than one day to get there.

When we got to the castle the king was very delighted to see that I had found her. But the king asked why we both looked so similar. We both said we didn't know. He was confused. So he called our parents (and well my stepmother).

My stepmother said disgustedly that they actually found me on the ground and took me in and made me the maid. I was so happy to find out my real family. The king gave us a medium sized bagful of gold coins and we used the coins to buy a bigger and more comfortable habitat. As for my step sisters, they learned how to work for themselves and they then became princesses. I also gave them a few gold coins for raising me and taking care of me to some extent. And we all lived a happy life.

Timmy Failure

Retold by Malay Gupta

One day, Timmy Failure was walking on the sidewalk where he found Total the Cheetah who ran away from his home because it was too hot there. He is now 6,708 miles from his home. Timmy planned to start a detective agency so they created a form of transportation called the Total Mobile which is super fast because he is a cheetah. They planned to make something called the Timmy Line for phone calls. Next, they were finding a place to rent for the agency. The place they rented was a huge commercial building. They were really happy and were ready to work hard for their agency. Now, they started thinking of a name and the name they decided on was Total Failure Inc: we do not fail.

Knock knock ... looks like we got our first client. "Good morning! How may I help you?" Timmy asked.

The client started saying "I cannot find my rare lego golden brick," Timmy was ready to start his first case so he asked his first client a few questions. Timmy started to look at the client's house and found the place the client put the rare lego golden brick. He took his notepad and wrote down all the information he collected so far. He rode back to his office in the Total Mobile. Then, he took some supplies and went back to the client's house. Next, he asked a few more questions to the client and started jotting down more notes. He noticed footprints that lead to an underground lair with intense security. So, Timmy dug a hole underneath the intense security so he got inside and started looking for the rare lego golden brick and found it in a vault. He dug under it again and found the rare lego golden brick. He went back to the client's home and gave the client the rare lego golden brick. The client is Nintendo. Nintendo was so happy Timmy found it so he paid Timmy for his excellent services.

Now Timmy wants new people to join the agency! His client Nintendo wants to join the agency as well. Timmy started by giving Nintendo a few tests. Nintendo passed all the tests. Nintendo looked very happy. Timmy asked Nintendo a few questions about himself. Nintendo asked Timmy a few questions about himself. Timmy and Nintendo had so much fun and Timmy's full name is Timmy Failure and Nintendo's full name is Nintendo Switch so he gave Nintendo a name tag made out of gold. Nintendo was shocked it was gold and had Timmy's signature! They started to work as a team and solved many cases!

Cinderella

Retold by Shruti Vijay

One sunny morning, Cassie was doing dishes for her step mother. All of sudden, the doorbell rang. Cassie was listening to music so she could not hear anybody or anything. So, her stepmother yelled as loud as she could, “CASSIE GO AND GET THE MAIL! IT IS MAIL DAY! WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR SOMEONE TO COME AND GIVE IT TO YOU SO YOU CAN GIVE IT TO ME?! GO AND GET THE MAIL!” She yelled so loud that almost the whole street could hear her.

Cassie ran as fast as she could and sprinted to the door. When Cassie looked out the door, there was no mail man. So Cassie thought quickly, “Since I came late, the mail man would not want to wait so he probably left it on the mat!”

Just as she had suspected, she looked down and saw the mail. The address part was on the top and she saw that it had a printed sticker that said that it was for 18 year olds. She was so happy but she still needed to give it to her stepmother.

When she got to the living room Lila asked Cassie, “Why are you so happy you did get some prize?” Mary, her stepmother, snatched the letter from her hands. She saw that the letter that said it was for 18 year olds. She then looked inside of the envelope and it said, “anyone that is 18 years old is invited to a movie.” The only 18 year old in the house was Cassie.

Then her stepmother snapped, “my dear darlings are not allowed to go to a movie and this... this... this ugly girl is allowed to go? Hmph she doesn't even have an outfit,” she said as she ripped the envelope and threw it in the garbage.

Cassie ran to her room and started crying right after locking the room. She cried and cried for at least 5 minutes. Soon a swirl of purple dust appeared and then an old lady stood in front of her.

Cassie whispered rapidly, “Who are you? Why are you here? How did you get here, and what do you want?”

The godmother told her, “WOAH WOAH WOAH slow down, I will answer your questions in 1 word, I am your GODMOTHER-I mean FAIRY GODMOTHER”

Cassie asked confused, “I HAVE A FAIRY GODMOTHER!?”

“Yes you do and now darling I am going to get you to that movie theater” the Godmother said.

“How are you gonna do that?” Cassie asked kindly.

“Well magic can do anything,” the godmother said.

“OK,” Cassie said.

“Now give me a broom,” the godmother told her and so Cassie grabbed a broom...

TO BE CONTINUED...